

BRITISH LAND
RECLAMATION
SOCIETY
REGISTERED CHARITY NO: 1042784

JKC are proud to announce that we are now members of the British Land Reclamation Society.

The BLRS (British Land Reclamation Society) is a multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary organisation concerned with the reclamation, rehabilitation and restoration of land, including contaminated, derelict and abandoned land from mineral working and former urban and industrial uses.

Come and see us at the next event on: Tuesday 29th April 2014:-

Dealing with Japanese knotweed and other non-native plant species

Presentation by David Layland, Japanese Knotweed Control Ltd and member of INNSA (Invasive Non-Native Specialists Association).

- Introduction to Japanese Knotweed and other non-native plants.
- Current legislation and guidance
- Working practise, management plans and risk assessments
- Successful Treatment Programmes
- INNSA update
- Q & A

<http://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/dealing-with-japanese-knotweed-and-other-non-native-plant-species-tickets-10476105313>

The BLRS has been a Registered Charity (No. 1042784) since 1994, and has been operating within the sector in the UK since 1987.

Members enjoy many benefits, including reduced cost entry to regular society-sponsored or co-sponsored conferences, plus membership of the International Affiliation of Land Reclamationists (IALR).

Want to find out more? Visit our website